To whom it may concern:

I am loving the New Era Italian course that I am busy with and found that within a short time I could follow much of what was written in the exercises without having to look at the translation constantly.

The many repetitions of phrases in different contexts is a sure fire way (for me) to retain them. I feel quite confident that I will be able to understand basic spoken Italian without my books. ☺

I have no hesitation in recommending this course to anyone. I would also like to add that the pre- and post-sale service from Alan was first class, thank you very much!

Kind regards
